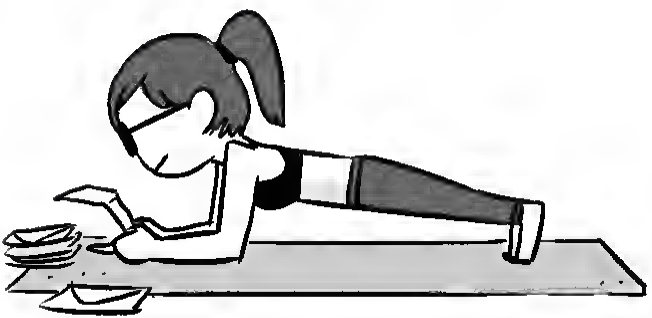
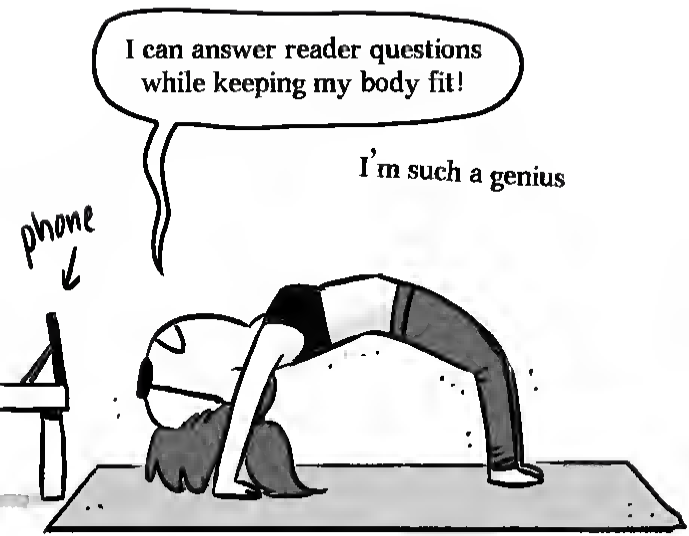
ROAR STREET JOURNAL

Ask The Author #5



I bought a yoga mat recently so I can practice yoga at home as well.



I can answer reader questions while keeping my body fit!
I'm such a genius phone

Arghhh noooo stop itttt lick bite lick lick

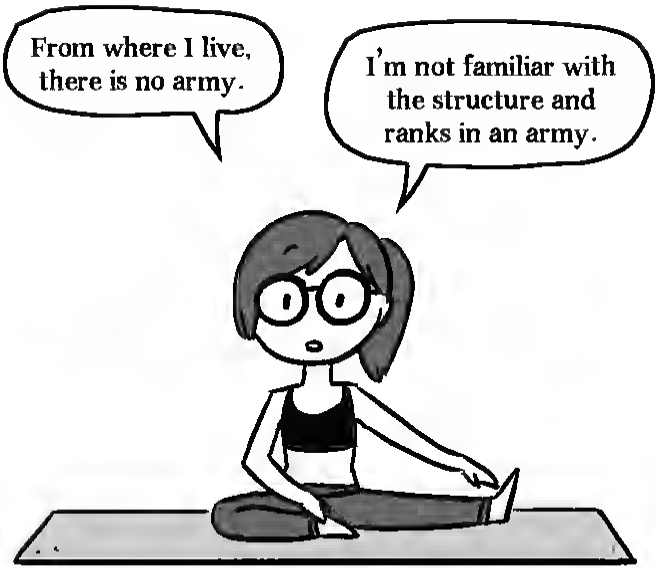
ASK the AUTHOR
#5

Champy_Win

Hey Bonnie, What if the members of RSJ joined the army? What would their jobs be and what would their ranks be? This is something I've been wondering about.



From where I live, there is no army.
I'm not familiar with the structure and ranks in an army.

If there is an army in RSJverse...

GUARDIANS OF THE RSJVERSE

CAPTAIN

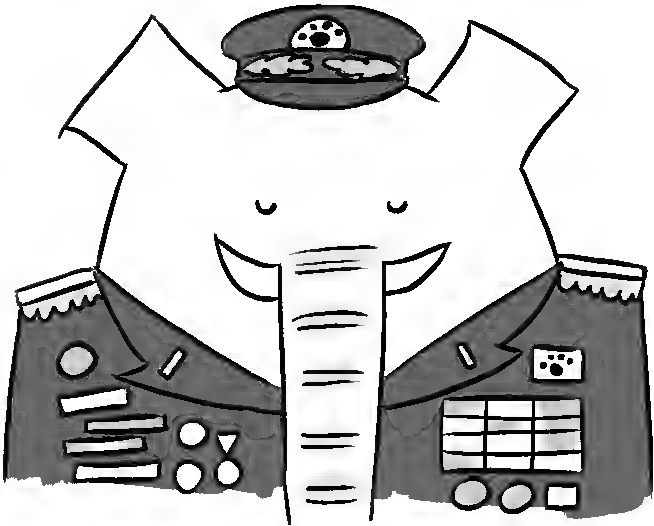
Strategist

Assistant

Medical Corps

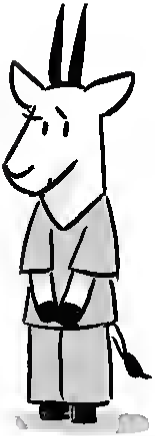
Translator

≡ GENERAL ≡



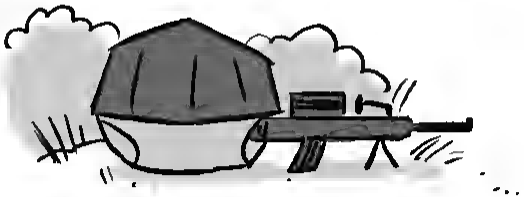
Women's Army Corps

Army Nurse Corps

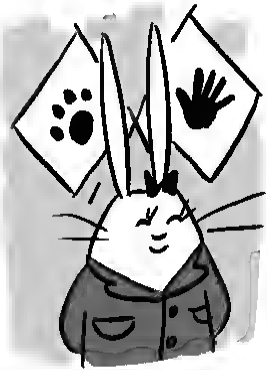


Military Intelligence

Infantry



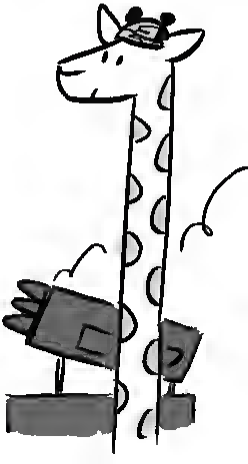
Adjutant General Specialist



SERGEANT

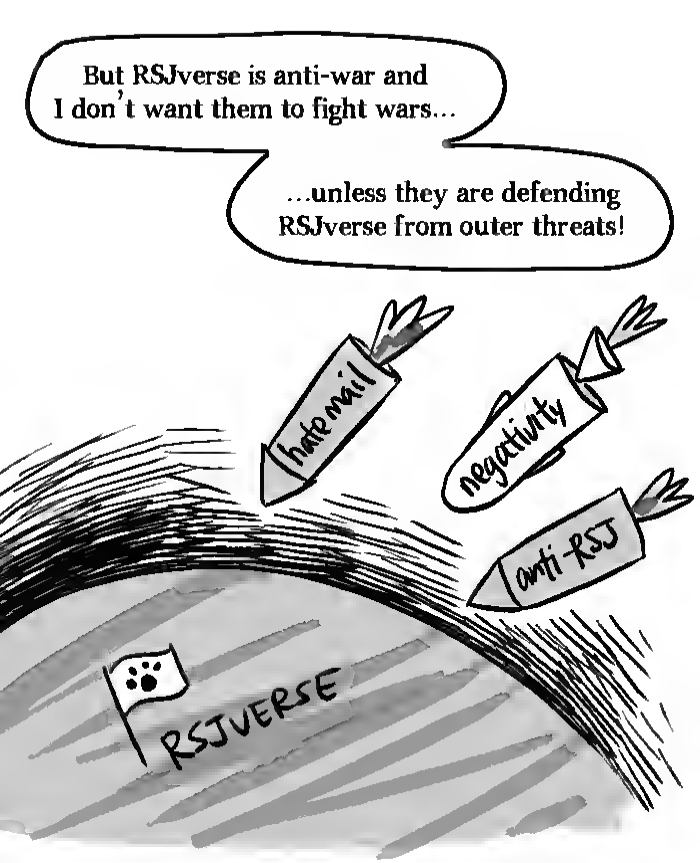
Quartermaster Officer

Air Defense Artillery



Armor Corps

Peace Specialist

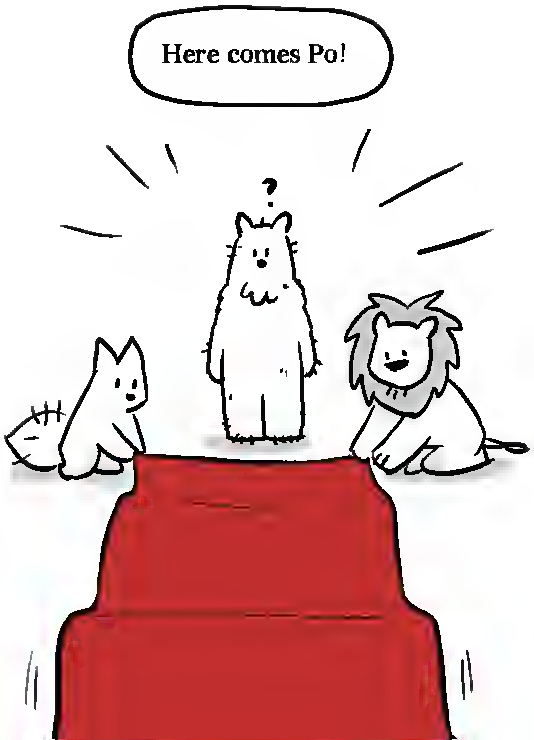


But RSJverse is anti-war and I don't want them to fight wars...
...unless they are defending RSJverse from outer threats!
hatemail
negativity
anti-RSJ
RSJVERSE

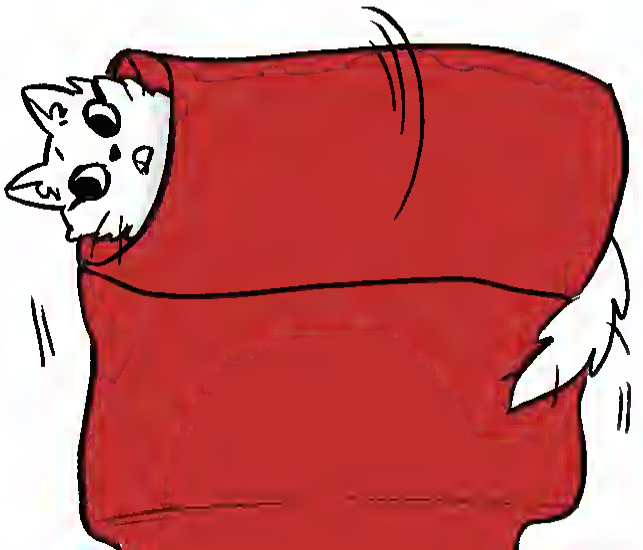
Kelsie Kimmons

I'm really curious about one thing only. Did you intend for Po the Polar bear to take over or did you change Angora's story line so he could? Other than that I love this story and am glad you made an appearance in Blue Chair!

I don't really remember...
But I think I was paving the road for Po when I wrote Angora's storyline.



Here comes Po!
?



huimin

hi bonnie!! Love reading RSJ, one of my fav webtoons :D!! Here's my question, is it difficult for you to find a job (in the art industry)?? My friend is a fresh graduate and shes trying to find a job, but having some difficulties, any advice :)?

Apart from improving your work,

draw
draw
draw

you also need to know how to sell your work.

Create some awesome stuff and show it to the world.
Keep meeting new people.
connections

Kania (^w^)

Btw, do you draw another genre comic? maybe RSJ in thriller version 😅

anyway I'm webtoon rookie, and just felt in love to your comic lately.. thanks for drawing RSJ 💞

I do draw another comic. Fantasy genre I'd say.
MINDBOUND
*The comic is in full color.
I might put it in the webtoon challenge league if I update often enough.

Thriller genre is not my expertise.
And I'd like to keep RSJverse an utopia.
So it will only be a RSJ parody.

Tiffanyuuki

Dear Bonnie, have you ever feel in love with 2D Characters ?

I did, and boy I had a harem of male characters back then...

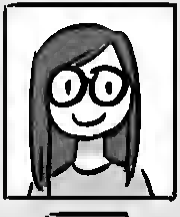
There was a time when I was obsessed with the 2D world.
It's perfectly normal to find a love interest in a comic book or anime show...

...as long as you don't end up marrying them in real life.

zazaHMS_

Dear bonnie, what country are you from??? you look like you're asian, If you are, i'm asian too! I'm from Brunei Darussalam. How old are you??? How many relatives do you have??? please answer in the next ask the athour😊😊😊

HONG KONG SAR ID CARD



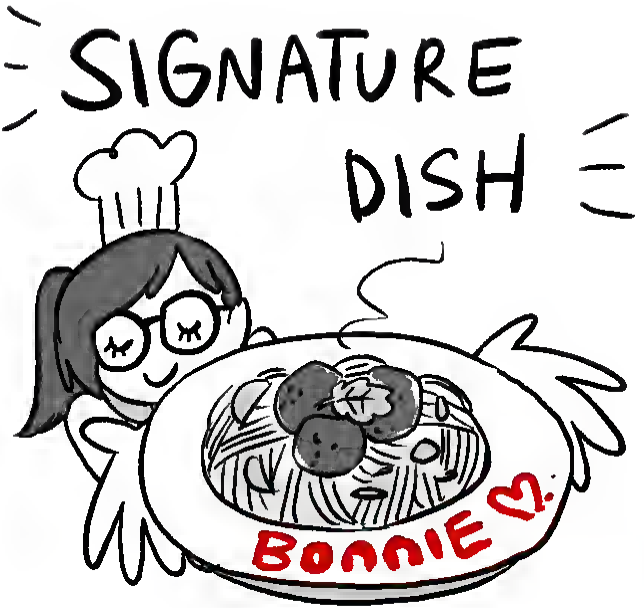
Name: Bonnie Pang
Gender: F
Nationality: Chinese
Year of birth: 1990

I never counted my relatives. I'm not in a huge family anyways.
Everyone can be my relative.
The world is one

Gracia

Hello Bonnie!What is your signature dish you can cook ? :)

ketchup

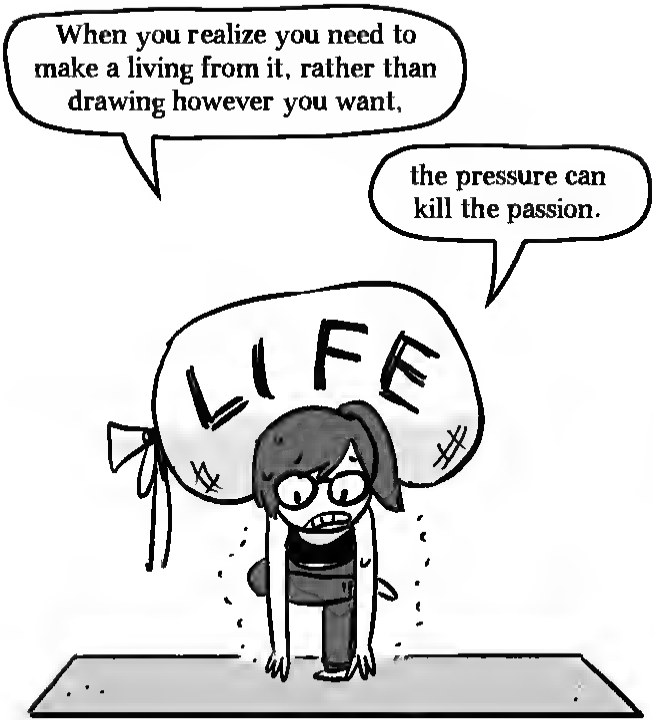


SIGNATURE
DISH
BONNIE

Dokuroskull

Hey, Bonnie great job on RSJ and QnA as always. I have a question I'm hoping you could answer. I am currently done with my bachelor degree in design and wanted to pursue my master degree in the same field, but I feel that day by day my passion for art and design gradually fades and it scares me that one day I might ended up hate it. Do you ever get sick or bored of drawing and art in general ? If so, how do you cope with it ? Thanks, love you and everyone in RSJ 💞🐾💖

I went through the same phase when I was studying my art degree too.
I think it's the stress of turning a hobby into a profession.



When you realize you need to make a living from it, rather than drawing however you want,
the pressure can kill the passion.
LIFE

Remind yourself what sparked your passion in the very beginning.
LIFE
When you start enjoying the process rather than seeing it as a chore, everything will become better.

Dogetrick Wowstar

Hey Bonnie! First, I want to start off with saying that your comics really make my day! RSJ is what gets me through school, and I really appreciate the effort you put into these comics! And for my question, I was wondering what you do for free time. You know, when you're finished making comics and you have time to relax. Anyway, thank you so much! Keep it up! :)

Well, the truth is... there is no "free time" for artists.
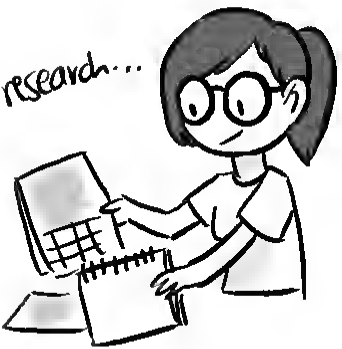
What, aren't you doing yoga right now?

Alright, just kidding.
I eat, sleep, exercise...
work on other illustration jobs...
Go volunteering...

Plan other parts of RSJverse



RSJ 2017 Calendar

Draw my other webcomic

Haven't update for so long, fans are gonna kill me

And most importantly, spend time with my loved ones.

It's the most relaxing time.

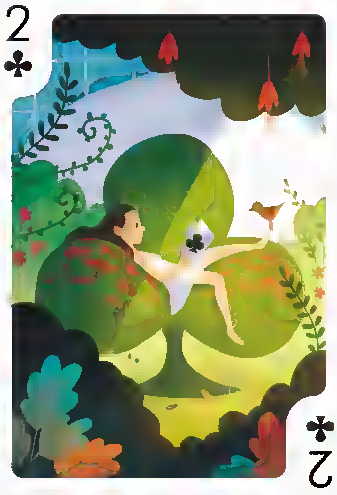
郭 賢 銀 (Silver)

Hello Bonnie, I have seen a lot classic questions from the authors of webtoons, and the most classic is about "What the readers want from this webtoon?" but we never ask about 'what do you want the most from us (readers)'. Name it, Bonnie, a lots of love, a plushie, anything, we will do our best to get it for you!

What sorcery is this?
My...my eyes are sweating...

I'm participating in a playing cards contest,

and I'd love to have your support!



Like Share 88 Tweet Pin it 0

You can vote for me and share it with friends!

The public voting period lasts till July 24.

Check out other great designs in this kickstarter project!

http://playingarts.com/en/special/vote/2-clubs

ROAR STREET JOURNAL

gwendolenn

I'm hungarian, and our national animal is the Turul (but it's a fictional animal in our mythology). But we are really famous for Hungarian Grey cattle and Puli (it's a kind of dog).

Readers from Hungary!

The Turul is a mythological creature based on a large falcon. In Hungarian tradition, the leader of the Hungarian tribes had a dream that eagles attacked their horses and a Turul came to save them. There were 3 large Turul statues in the country.